

When we design
your packaging,
we like to start here.

At Design First, our talented product designers believe that the best way to achieve original, innovative and functional packaging designs begins with a blank sketchpad.

So whether you're looking to package mineral water or ice cream, pool chemicals or adhesives, look no further than us to provide you with the ultimate packaging solution for your needs.

Design First is the in-house research, development and design service for Polyoak Packaging and boasts a world class facility which enables us to provide conceptual and technical design for new product development and the re-design of existing products.

Remember, good design results in good business!
